

CS4363/5363 Computer Vision

Fall 2022

Geometric Transformations

1. Write a program to generate the following image transformation, using user input for control points.

2. Write a program to generate the following image transformation, using user input for control points.

3. Write a program to generate the following image transformation, using user input for control points.

